

The Prophet Isaiah

Ancient Tower and Vineyard (Isaiah 5:1-10)

A study of the prophecy of Isaiah, the son of Amoz who prophesied during the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah, kings of Judah. This great prophet was called of God in his youth to “cry aloud and spare not.” His willing answer was, “Here am I send me.” For nearly sixty years he proclaimed the will of the “Holy One of Israel” to a “sinful nation, laden with iniquity.” His was a message of repentance, retribution and restoration. This beautiful book that announces the coming Messiah and His eternal kingdom in sixty-six chapters is studied in twenty-six lessons. Emphasis is given to the historical background of the book and the prophetic announcements of the coming Christ, the Lord of Glory.

Introduction

Isaiah has been called the “dean of Old Testament prophets.” His book is referred to as “the Bible in miniature.” There is no denying the beauty, grandeur, passion and pathos of this book. It presents to us the prophetic announcement of God’s retribution upon a rebellious and gainsaying people and the promise of His grace and mercy to the faithful remnant that will emerge from those troublesome times. “Salvation is of the Lord,” is the meaning of the prophet’s name, and it is the message of this book. The great announcement that Isaiah brings to his people is that “Jesus is coming!”

Your study of this book will broaden both your understanding of Old Testament history and your appreciation of Israel’s place in the redemptive scheme of “the Holy One of Israel.” In it you will see Christ as the “Lamb of God that takes away the sins of the world” (John 1:29). He is the “Suffering Servant of Jehovah” upon whom the iniquities of Israel are laid. He is the Great Redeemer of the children of Abraham whom God will highly exalt.

Preparation for the Study

In order to get the most out of this study, it is recommended that the student begin by reading the entire book through at least once, if not twice, before proceeding with the individual lesson studies. This will help you get a feel for the book as a whole. Following this page is an analytical chart designed to give an over all “picture” of the book’s organization and theme. There is also an outline of the book which will be followed in the class meeting in discussing the book.

The student may want to have the aid of a commentary when preparing for class. For a brief treatment of the book, I recommend Wayne Jackson’s book, Isaiah: God’s Prophet of Doom and Deliverance (Quality Publications). For a fuller treatment of the text consider Homer Hailey’s A Commentary on Isaiah with Emphasis on the Messianic Hope (Religious Supply). There are other commentaries available. Most notable among them is the three volume set by Edward J. Young and a similar work by Paul T. Butler. Another aid that may prove useful is Robert Harkrider’s workbook commentary on Isaiah, Trust in the Holy One of Israel (Norris Book Company). The book is about 150 pages and provides a critical outline of the book. I have found it to be very useful in my studies of the book. However, the student will find his own efforts to be the most helpful in understanding the message of this great prophet of God.

Class Participation

Attendance of the class meetings is very important. There you will have your own studies enhanced with the understanding of others. Questions you have about difficult portions of the book will be answered and additional materials not available in this study guide will be provided through audio-visual presentations and handouts. In order to get the most out of the book while giving the most to others your attendance at class meetings is essential.
